

Lynn M. Summers joined the Junior League of Miami in 1988 and has remained engaged in JLM projects since that time; specifically, she was a key player in the acquisition and renovation of the two JLM-owned buildings in the City of North Miami where INN TRANSITION NORTH has operated since the early 1990s and was also directly involved in the negotiation for and acquisition of the building which is now the JLM Headquarters. Lynn is the recipient of JLM's Rebecca Herndon Bush Award and the Women Who Make a Difference Award. She and her husband, Horacio S. Aguirre, reside on the banks of the Miami River and are active in the protection, preservation and promotion of the Miami River, as a working river. Lynn is currently the President of the Friends of the Miami-Dade Public Library and is a cancer survivor.
